THRONE

“As the workspaces turn into more collective and open structures, the need for employees to get away from the intense schedule of offices increases significantly. Acknowledging this differentiation in offices and work culture, we designed Throne, which reveals in a gentle way the privacy and comfort that is most needed in the flutter of an office.”

Throne, creates an isolated area in the office for users to unwind and rest thanks to its armchair body with a fluid and curvy form, and the outer shell that swaddles this surface.

The sitting area with explicit lines emphasized by stitch details, different parts like the armrest and the shell are integrated dynamically and harmoniously, establishing a strong visual wholeness.

Reflecting its warmth to the atmosphere with the leather and felt color alternatives it has, Throne offers a unique comfort to users throughout limited times they are able to get away from the bustling work life.
